

New England's 20 largest clean techs

April 12, 2013
Patricia Resende

Coming in at No. 14 is Billerica, Mass.-based Luminus Devices. The developer and manufacturer of Big Chip LEDs, versatile solid state light sources designed to deliver the most lumens of any single chip for a variety of application, has a total of 125 employees, 120 of which are in New England, and is led by President and CEO Keith Ward.